

Secrets of the Movies Revealed

Q.—How many extras have been employed in the new picture "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood?"

A.—Some idea of the size of the "Robin Hood" production may be gleaned from the fact that 15,000 people have been appearing in it as extras. When the picture was about three-fifths finished, $17,500 had been paid out in wages to these extras, whose salaries run from $7.50 to $25 a day. This large amount takes into account none of the heavy costs of costumes these extras. Many of the costumes are of extra fine texture and are very expensive.

Q.—In what new picture is the American policeman given the credit that is due the work he performs?

A.—"In The Name of The Law," recently completed, treats the policeman as they really deserve to be considered, not as comics or crooks.

Q.—What famous star declares that the personal appearance of stars will soon pass into the discard?

A.—Mary Pickford declares that the personal appearance of actors at picture showings will become less popular each season. She further maintains that these appearances are of no help to the picture's popularity.

Q.—What movie actress recently left her husband to whom she has been married only a few months?

A.—Priscilla Bonner's romance is shattered. She has left Lieut. Allan Wynnes and returned to her mother.

Q.—What well-known author is to write the story for the picture "Hungry Hearts?"

A.—How was the effect of the flood produced in the climax of the picture, "The Town That Forgot God?" The answer will explain how.

Q.—What do you consider the best movie ever made? That question has repeatedly been asked this writer and an answer has been repeatedly evaded. Too many elements must be considered in judging a picture's value. The films most recently viewed stand out in sharper relief than those viewed months ago.

I have just seen "The Miracle Man" for the seventh or eighth time. I have seen no other film so often. I shall see "The Miracle Man" the next time it is convenient for me to see it. Evidently I consider it "the best photoplay" ever made.

The work done by George Loane Tucker and by the actors in "The Miracle Man" was inspired by some great urge for each to do their best. It is doubtful if Betty Compson, Tom McLean, Lon Chaney or Joseph P. Dowling did better work before or after the making of this film. None of them were great stars then. Maybe that is why they performed so well.

Wanda Hawley, Bertram Grassby and Charles Ogle will support Rudolph Valentino in "The Young Rascal."

A school in which a woman teaches birds to sing is shown in a coming movie Chat.

Harriet Hammond is playing opposite Herbert Rawlinson in "The Rainbow Chaser."

Screen

AUDITORIUM

Lester Cuneo, the popular thrill giver, is appearing at the Auditorium today in "The Silver Spurs." Beautiful scenes of southern California form the background for the story of a young adventurer, a novelist, who not only finds new ideas for his story but a wife for himself. Saturday, the mystery picture, called "The Empire of Diamonds," is said to be a story that will hold the spectator spellbound from start to finish. Baby Peggy, the youngest star on the screen, will be seen on the same program in a comedy, called "The Little Rascal."

BLACKSTONE

find and Agnes Ayres as the stars, is at the Blackstone today and Saturday. To the people of South Bend, it is almost unnecessary to repeat the story of this great picture. The book has been read by thousands and the picture has been talked of until it is already known to every lover of the screen. "The Sheik" is without doubt one of the most sensational and one of the mightiest screen dramas that has ever come out of the Paramount studios. George Melford, creator of "The Marigold Four," a quartet of unusual ability, will remain as a special feature during the remainder of this week.

On Sunday Marion Davies comes in a gorgeous Cosmopolitan production, "Beauty's Worth."

LASALLE

It's hard to tell whether men or women will get the most pleasure out of the hilarious comedy of married life, "Too Much Wife," which is at the Lasalle today and Saturday. Also it's about a toss-up whether husbands or wives will find the most openings to say, "I told you
